

TracVision® M1

Optional Mounting Bracket

Perfect for boats that want to replace an off-air antenna, the new TracVision M1 Mounting Bracket mates to any standard threaded stainless mount. With KVH's TracVision M1 and its simple mounting solutions, it's never been easier to bring the exciting live satellite TV programming you enjoy at home, aboard!

New TracVision M1 Mounting Bracket – the world's smallest and lightest marine satellite television antenna just got easier to install!

The ultra-compact TracVision M1 offers KVH's award-winning open water tracking and in-motion performance while looking great on sailboats and small powerboats. Now, with the new TracVision M1 Mounting Bracket, you can mount the antenna with any standard stainless antenna mount available from your local marine equipment supplier! Use this bracket with a standard threaded steel mount (1"-14 threads) to make the TracVision M1 a drop-in replacement for a Shakespeare® SeaWatch® or Glomex® off-air antenna. Just thread the mounting nut and mounting bracket onto the antenna mount, then screw the antenna to the mounting bracket – that's all there is to it!†
